Trenton, March 2 .- The statesmen who came here this evening were surprised to find the streets dry and clean, and to learn that there had been no snowfall in or around Trenton last night.

The Erie Railroad managers have not yet come to terms with Jersey City officials as to track elevation, but a satisfactory agreement is looked for this week. Meantime the Eric reorganization bill stays on the Senate calendar.

Abram S. Hewitt, of New-York, is expected here to-morrow to urge the Senators to act favorably on the bill legalizing the Erie's lease of the Greenwood Lake Railroad. Perhaps that measure may be pushed along, although some of the lawmakers say that it should rest along with the reorganization bill until the track elevation problem is dis-

Contrary to general expectation, the nine lawyers selected by the Senate have been unable to agree upon a constitutional amendment reforming the judiciary. They have among them six or seven plans and each man seems to think his the best. The committee meets again tomorrow and there is a possibility of something like harmony. Chancery and Supreme Court Clerks' Salary bill is expected to pass the House this week, unless some unexpected obstacle crops up. Governor Griggs will not put any stones in its way.

Nothing but commendation was heard here tonight when the new batch of judicial nominations came in. Those who thought that Governor Griggs was small enough to refuse a reappointment to Supreme Court Justice Dixon, because they once had a disagreement about some legal points, were greatly amazed, but the Governor did just what his friends and the general public hoped that he would.

ANOTHER BAD BOROUGH LAW.

THE ACT OF 1890 DECLARED UNCONSTI-TUTIONAL-OVER ONE HUNDRED BOR-OUGH GOVERNMENTS HAVE

BEEN WIPED OUT. Trenton, March 2 (Special).—The most important and far-reaching decision handed down by the Court of Errors and Appeals to-day is in the case of the Attorney-General against the borough of Anglesea. The opinion is by Justice Garrison, and it declares the borough act of 1890 unconstitutional The suit directly questions the legal existence of poroughs organized under that act. This decision, together with several others rendered by the Supreme Court this term, is far-reaching. Taken together the decisions declare illegal all boroughs organized in New-Jersey under any borough act except that of 1878. Over 100 borough governments are therefore wiped out. Fully twenty of these are in Bergen County. From five to ten more are in Essex County. Nearly every south Jersey county has several boroughs that were illegally organized and perhaps there are some in every county in the declared illegal are invalid. The Legislature will be appealed to at once to protect the boroughs in some way. The bonds of the illegal boroughs will be declared good, perhaps, because it may be held that the existing government was a de facto government at least.

The action of the Cumberland Court in the case of George Deginther against the Home for the Care of Feeble Minded Children was sustained by the Court of Errors. The suit was brought to recover damages from the home for the death of Frederick Sage, who was burned to death in the "Jane S. Robinson" cottage, February 25, 1894. The contention of Sage's executor was that he lost his life because there was no fire escape in the building. The court holds that it is not obligatory upon house-owners to erect fire escapes until notified by the municipal authorities.

DECISION OF AN OLD CASE. .

THE JUDGMENT UNDER WHICH EX-GOVERNOR PRICE WAS SENT TO JAIL AFFIRMED.

Trenton, March 2.-In the Court of Errors and Appeals to-day a decision rendered by Chancellor McGill was affirmed in the litigation in which ex-Governor Rodman S. Price, of New-Jersey, was sent to jail for contempt of Court. His contempt consisted in appropriating to himself $54,000 out of an award of $76,000 made to him by the Federal Government after the Court had restrained him from disposing of the money. The judgment then was that the money, including that still due from the Government, should be held for judgment creditors. Ex-Governor Price died soon after his release from custody, and the decision applies to the helrs, who are to surrender whatever portion of the $54.00 they have received, in order that the receiver may make distribution of the assets.

For a week or two she had been employed in a Passale handkerchief mill, but on Tuesday night was discharged. She falled to tell her parents of her dismissal, and left home as usual every morning. When she did not return on Friday night her father began a search which has so far proved ineffective. The girl is apparently incorrigible, this being her third runaway escapade. Her father threatens to send her to a reform school if she is found.

A DRUMMER DYING FROM HICCOUGHS. Paterson, March 2 (Special).—Lehman Asiel, a travelling salesman, who lives at No. 53 Van Houtenst., has been suffering from hiccoughs since last Thursday night.

Three weeks ago he was called from a Sc trip to the bedside of his mother, who was seriously ill. He remained in constant attendance, getting little rest until Thursday, when, worn out, he retired for a nap. Toward morning he woke up with an attack of hiccoughs. He took simple remedies attack of hiccoughs. He took simple remedies until noon, when, the paroxysms becoming more frequent, Dr. Magennis was called in. The biccoughs continued and other physicians were called. Asiel was placed under the influence of narcotics, but when their effect had worn off the hiccoughs returned with renewed vigor. At noon to-day Drs. Magennis and Blundell held a consultation, and later said that the case was serious. Asiel is forty-two years old, and weighed about two hundred pounds before the attack. He has lost thirty pounds.

JERSEY CITY'S LOW DEATH RATE.

r. W. W. Varick, president of the County Board of Health, said yesterday that the residents of Jersey City had been needlessly alarmed over the salleged impurity of the water. He directed attention to the annual report of the Board, which has just been completed, and showed that the death rate of last year, 23.7, was the lowest since 1839.

THE HOUSE ADOPTS A STRONG CUBAN RESOLUTION.

ASSEMBLYMAN ROLL INTRODUCES A TROLLEY GRAB BILL WHICH WILL MAKE HIM FAMOUS

-THE NEWARK LIBRARY MEASURE PASSES THE SENATE-BILLS IN-

Trenton, March 2 (Special).-The following resolution of sympathy with Cuba in her struggle for freedom was introduced in the House to-night by Mr. Robertson, of Passaic County, and was unanimously agreed to:

Whereas, The struggle being made by the patriots of Cuba to secure the priceless blessings of liberty to the people of the island and release from domina-tion of a European kingdom has been maintained for twelve months; and

"Whereas, All efforts of Spain to suppress the up-

Assemblyman Gledhiil, of Passaic, made a clear statement of the condition of the Paterson tax office. His bill providing for the retention of Deputy Tax Collector Robert B. Busterd, who is known as the personal tax collector, came up on third reading.

Mr. Gledhill, in support of his bill, said: "The personal tax assessable in the city of Paterson is about $8,000,000. For years it was simply impossible to collect any of the taxes on this sum until about three years ago, when the Mayor appointed Mr. Busterd. His salary is fixed at $1,200, and he has made himself indispensable. He has collected about $26,000 annually of the personal taxes, and I hope this bill will pass to retain him in office. The appointive power is placed in the hands of the taxing department for the reason that it is believed to be the proper place."

Mr. Scovel, of Camden, objected to the bill. He said that the bill created a new office, and the Republicans d.d not intend to either create any new offices or pass any unnecessary legislation. Mr. Alien thought the bill would affect Hoboken, and asked that it lie over until to-morrow. Mr. Glednill consented asked that it lie over until to-morrow. Mr. Glednill consented.

Among the bills introduced to-night was one by Mr. Roll, of Union. The bill is designed to deprive boroughs and township committees of the right to deal with electric street car companies, placing the entire control of these roads in the hands of the boards of freeholders. The bill provides that hereafter all roads constructed by boards of chosen freeholders shall be controlled by boards of chosen freeholders shall have sole jurisdiction and power to grant or refuse permission to any trolly or street railway company to occupy any county road, but a franchise can only be granted when the owners of a majority of the lineal feet of land fronting upon such roads give their consent in writing.

The following bills passed the House: Repealing the act of 1825, giving the Mayor of Newark power to fill vacancies in school boards; creating a Board of Trustees for the teachers retirement fund.

Mr. Harvey's Orange and Plainfield sewer bill and the bill appropriating $1,000 to the New-Jersey Agricultural College to investigate the ravages of the San Jose scale in the fruit orchards of the State,

THE LIQUOR-DEALERS PROTEST. THEY OBJECT TO THE PASSAGE OF SENATOR

ROGERS'S SALOON LICENSE BILL. Trenton, March 2 (Special).-- Champions of the liquor interest spent several hours this afternoon trying to convince the Senate Committee on Miscellaneous Business-Ross, Engle and Vreelandthat they should smother Senator Rogers's bill re quiring such license application to have twelve ndependent signers, owning property in the ward. T. H. Nolan, organizer of the State Liquor Dealers' Association, was the principal spokesman.

"Pass this bill," said be, "and you reduce the number of legitimate licensed houses. What is the result? Look at Philadelphia, where an effort was nade in the same direction through a high-license law, and there are now in that city 3,500 speak easies, paying no license whatever. Our associa-tion has no sympathy with the keepers of dives or loosely conducted hotels. On the contrary, the could not obtain admission to our organization, and we would willingly join hands with the clergy and temperance people in stamping out such places There is more money in the liquor business in New Jersey than any other enterprise in the State. men whom we represent want to conduct their business in a respectable manner under the protection of the law and the Constitution."

James Butler, of Keyport, said: stated that most of the business of our courts comes from the saloons. Well, I live in Munmouth comes from Asbury Park, which has no licensed saloon or hotel. In one night I saw thirty-two barrooms wide open in Asbury Park, and I'm sure that there were 100 places of that kind open last summer. I don't mention that as reflecting on Asbury Park, but simply to show what is the result of restricting or shutting out legitimate dealers."

summer. I don't mention that as relecting on Asbury Park, but simply to show what is the result of restricting or shutting out legitimate dealers."

"There are now 365 saloons in Trenton." Andrew Cahili said. "If this bill becomes a law the number will be reduced to 126, and the city's revenue would come down correspondingly."

"The passage of this bill," said John McEntee, secretary of the State Association, "would cut in two the number of licensed houses in Jersey City. The license fees there go to the building of schools and the paving of streets. Last year two large schools were built from the moneys so received. Reduce the number of saloons by passing this bill and you throw a heavy burden on all the tax-payers."

"How many signers are now required in Jersey City?" asked Senator Ross.

"Five," replied Mr. McEntee.

"Must they be property-owners?"

"I do not know that any qualification of that kind is required."

"Are they permitted to sign more than one application?"

"So far as I know, there is no limit, but I am not prepared to speak positively on that point."

August Koehler, president of the State Association, protested against such interrogations. Incidentally he mentioned that in Newark, Orange, Passaic and Hoboken no signers are required. Mr. Koehler wanted a further hearing so that counsel could attend and make a more complete presentation of the case from the liquor dealers point of view, but the committee decided that it had given enough consideration to the subject. "If the bill passes the Senator Engle remarked. "Does anybody wish to speak for the bill?" asked Senator Ross, looking at a score of Women's Christian Temperance Union members, who had sat all through the argument. The women shook their heads.

The committee will probably report the bill with an amendment making the number of signers six instead of tweive.

APPLICANTS FOR APPROPRIATIONS. HEARING FOR THE HEADS OF STATE DEPART-MEN'TS BEFORE THE JOINT COMMITTEE.

Trenton, March 2 (Special).—A number of State officers appeared before the joint Committee on Appropriations, of which Senator Rogers is chairman, this afternoon, and informed the committee of the needs of their departments. Quartermaster-General R. A. Donnelly said that the amount of the general appropriation act of 1896 was insufficient to carry out the plans for the coming encampment at Sea Girt of the Second Brigade. He asked that $25,000 be placed in the Deficiency bill, and that the general appropriation for 1897 be increased to $40,000. This was necessary for the brigade encampment, as it is composed of three regiments of twelve companies each. He said that the rifle practice department ought to have $15,000. It was impossible for this department to get along with less than $13,000.

General Bird W. Spencer also appeared in behalf of the department and asked for $5,000 in the Deficiency bill for the year. He thought that unless $15,000 is appropriated the rifle department would have to be disbanded.

Charles Harrison told the committee that the State Road Improvement Society wanted the $78,000 which lapsed back into the State treasury when the general appropriation bill was passed last year placed in this year's Deficiency bill. The managers of the asylums asked for $300,000 to complete the new building the foundations for which were laid a year ago. State Controller Hancock, who was present, advised moderation in appropriations. be placed in the Deficiency bill, and that the general Asbury Park, March 2 (Special).-The trials of the nembers of the First Presbyterian Church, of As bury Park, who are accused by the Presbytery of Monmouth with disloyalty and insubordination, have been indefinitely postponed. This decision was announced to-day when a committee of the Presby tery came to Asbury Park, and met several of the alleged recalcitrants. In giving a reason for in-definite postponement the committee said that it had understood that several members of the church under charges had confessed their error, and were anxious to live in harmony with the church and Presbytery. There is a suit pending in the Court of Chancery for a receiver for the church, and un-til this is disposed of it is not likely that there will be any more trials. will be any more trials.

DEATH OF LEWIS C. GROVER.

THE MAN AFTER WHOSE GRANDFATHER PRESIDENT CLEVELAND WAS NAMED.

Lewis C. Grover, formerly and for many years president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, of Newark, died at his home, in Washington-st. in that city, on Sunday, in the eightyfirst year of his age. He had been an invalid for three years, and death was due to heart failure. Mr. Grover was born in 1815 at Caldwell, Essex County, N. J., the birthplace of President Cleveland, who was named after his paternal grandfather, the Rev. Stephen Grover. When Lewis was twelve years old his family moved to Newark, receiving an education at the Newark Academy. veloping a taste for law, his father took him into his law office and became his preceptor. In 1839 he graduated, together with Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, afterward United States Senator Secretary of State at Washington; Joseph P. Bradley, afterward Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court; Cortlandt Parker, now an eminent member of the New-Jersey bar, and ward W. Wheipley. Mr. Grover soon attained a good practice. He took an active part in the politics of the time as an earnest and uncompromising Whig. He was prominent in the great Presidential struggles of 840, 1844 and 1848, and in the latter year was elected to the Assembly on the Whig ticket. During 1845 Mr. Grover obtained from the Legislature of New-Jersey the charter of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, with which institution his name was actively connected for more than thirty-fiv years. He was originally the coupsel and a directo was actively connected for more than thirty-five years. He was originally the coupsel and a director of the company, and in course of time became its vice-president, and afterward its president and manager, gradually giving up his law practice and his political ambitions. From small beginnings the insurance company attained to immense proportions, and this success was largely due to Mr. Grover's able and efficient management, Mr. Grover resigned the presidency of the company in the fall of 181, receiving at the time a pension of 17,000 and the position of advisory counsel, which continued until his death. He was also counsel of the American Insurance Company, of Newark, although during the last three years he maintained no active connection with that company.

Mr. Grover always had a taste for literature, and was a systematic reader. Frequently he contributed articles to the local newspapers. In politics, after the fall of the Whig party, he was a Republican, although never actively identified with party politics. In to the close of his life his mind was clear. Mr. Grover's wife died about fifteen years ago, and he leaves three daughters. The funeral will be held from his late home to-morrow at 2 o'clock p. m. The pallbearers will be Amzi Dodd, Edward L. Dobbins, Marcus L. Ward, Frank K. Howell, Frederick H. Harris, Elias O. Doremus, Benjamin F. Crane and William Clark.

NO TRACE FOUND OF MR. MEWAN,

No tidings of Thomas McEwan, sr., father of Representative McEwan, had been received by his relatives up to a late hour last night. A thorough being made, and the hospitals and morguez of New-York and neighboring cities have been visited. The McEwan home, in West Hoboken, was deserted, save by the servant, who could give no information, except the sad news that no trace of the missing man had been found. All the officials of the cities and towns in Hudson County have been furnished with a description of the missing man, and have made thorough inquiry, but discovered no clew. The ased man was deaf, and it is feared he may have strayed to one of the many ratioway lines in the county and have been killed or maimed. No one answering his description, however, has been among the unfortunates. In fact, the luckless victims on the rail since Tuesday, the day he disappeared, have all been identified. A rumor was current that he had salled for Scotland, but this could not be verified, and was denied by the town officials of West Hoboken. NARROW ESCAPE OF A WOMAN AND CHILD-

FAULTY CONSTRUCTION OF THE WALL THE PRIMAL CAUSE OF THE ACCIDENT.

Orange, N. J., March 2 (Special).-About 2 o'clock this afternoon the third-story wall of the un brick building at No. 585 Main-st., East Orange, was blown over and fell on the top of a two-story wooden building next door, crushing in the flat tin roof like an eggshell.

The upper floor was occupied by Paul Serge, his wife and their infant daughter, two months old. Mrs. Serge was in the front room with her baby on her lap when the crash came. She was nearly buried beneath the falling plaster and was badly ut about the face and head. By a miracle the baby Examination showed that the fallen wall was of the flimslest kind. It was run up only eight inches thick and was built in freezing weather last week. The mortar was of the poorest and crumbled read-Ly between the fingers. The section of the wall that fell was about thirty feet long and eleven feet high. Mrs. Serge last night was suffering from shock, and her physician fears bad results from the The contractor on the building was

The contractor on the building was cautioned against the high westerly winds last Friday, and was requested to brace the wall. He laughed at the fears of the tenants of the crushed house, even when they were reinforced by the advice of William Williams, an old and experienced builder. The wall that fell was the easterly wall of a row of brick buildings belonging to F. H. Tiplin, of East Orange, and the other walls on the third floor are now building out and will have to come down. The contractor for the mason work was John S. Day, and the owner of the crushed house was Dr. William Pierson, of Orange.

THE STORM DOWN THE COAST. LITTLE SNOW IN THE SOUTH-VESSELS STORM-BOUND OUTSIDE THE HOOK.

Long Branch, March 2.-The snowstorm was a flurry this side of Red Bank. Beyond that point it grew heavier the further north one went. South of Red Bank the snow hardly coated the ground wind is blowing off shore, and to-night attained a velocity of fifty-five miles an hour. tides to-day and to-night were high, but went down quickly owing to the wind forcing the water off

Many vessels, which either failed to take warning or were caught on their way into New-York, are large three-master, supposed to be inward-bound from Calcutta, tried to make the Hook in the teeth of the wind this afternoon. Two tugs took her in tow. They were big ones, and the ship stripped to offer as little resistance as possible. The tugs and ship began to blow seaward, and all dropped anchors and are riding out the gale. They lie off Galilee. A pilot boat that tried to make the Hook against the wind had to anchor not far from the ship. There are several schooners nearby. A big ocean tug with two barges is also at anchor.

At Ocean Grove and Asbury Park considerable damage was done by the sea this evening. Tons of sand were carried out, and the bluff at Asbury Park for a distance of 80 feet, from Heck to Olive sits, and extending back to the driveway, has been cut out. In places the breaks are from fitteen to thirty feet deep. The board walk at Asbury Park is weakened. Some of the spiles are loosened from the sand. The damage at Asbury will cost the city several thousand dollars.

Paterson, March 2-The Passaic River is only three feet lower to-day than it was in the big freshet three weeks ago. The rains of the last week have caused the water to rise, and all the run parallel with the river, are under water, and Durgett's Island is partly submerged, and a good portion of Paterson Island Park is under water. The Passale Falls present a fine sight to-night

No further damage is apprehended, as the water appears to be receding.

Boonton, March 2.—The lakes at Lincoln Park and Mountain View overflowed their banks to-day, and the ground for over two hundred acres is covered with water. All cellars in the lower part of the places are filled with water. The lakes are drained by the Passale River, and the latter has also overflowed.

MACKIN'S VICTIMS BURIED.

THE CORONER'S JURY HOLDS HIM GUILTY AND

HE IS INDICTED BY THE GRAND JURY, The bodies of Mrs. Bridget Connors and her daughter, Mrs. Lizzle Mackin, who were murdered by the latter's husband on Thursday night, were laid at rest in one grave vesterday afternoon in Three or four hundred people congregated in front of the house in Philip-st., hoping to be admitted to the desolate home in gratification of their curiosity and catch a gimpse of the faces of the murdered women. They were not disappointed, as the door was opened to them. The bodies were incased in covered coffins. Miss Annie Connors sat at cloth-covered coffins. Miss Annie Conners sat at the head of her mother's body, weeping and sobbing. She has constantly been at the side of the body since the night of the tragedy. The bodies were transferred to St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the short services for the dead were repeated. Mackin, the murderer, continues to improve. Conners's condition is also favorable.

Coroner Volk held an inquest last night at the County Courthouse in the case of Bridget Connors, and the jury rendered a vertict that she died from the effect of a pistol-shot wound inflicted by John Mackin. The Grand Jury found an indictment against Mackin yesterday afternoon.

A MOULDER'S FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT. Elizabeth, March 2 (Special).-Peter Cummings, wenty-four years old, a brass moulder employed in the Worthington Pump Works, was frightfully burned this evening by the bursting of a crucible filled with molten brass which he and another man were carrying. The metal was sent in a shower over Cummings. His clothing was burned off, and his arms and body suffered the most. His hair and eyebrows were singed off, and he barely escaped being blinded. He was removed to the Elizabeth Hospital.

Frederick Simon, who pleaded guilty to an indictement for forgery, and also to the charge of embezzlement, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Kirkpatrick to one year in Caldwell Pentientiary. Simon deserted his wife and eloped to St. Louis with another woman. He was arrested in that city on a charge of embezzling from Mangel & Schmidt, his employers. It was charged that he forged his wife's name to a check paid to her on the insurance policies issued on the lives of his two children. He was also indicted on a charge of attempting to poison his wife, but was acquitted. The bodies of his two children were disinterred to show that the children had not been poisoned.

in July or August, Mr. Hainer will go to Europe, where he intends to spend two years in study and travel. He will visit England, going to Oxford and London, and will then travel through the Mediterranean coast countries and in the Holy Land. Mr. Hainer's resignation is not thought by most of his congregation to be the result of the dissensions which occurred in the church a short time ago. He has been pastor of the First Congregational Church for seven years, having come there from the Christian Church in Iryington, of which a younger brother, the Rev. William Hainer, now has charge.
